KIDS and conservation

Show Us Your Creative Side For a Chance to Win!

Students take out your art supplies and video cameras and get creative for a chance to win in NJNG's annual Conserve to Preserve (CTP) Kids & Conservation Poster and Video Contests.

Poster Contest for Fifth Grade Students:

Let your fifth graders' talents shine through in our eighth annual CTP Kids and Conservation Poster Contest. Open to all fifth grade classes within NJNG's service territory, the poster contest encourages students to illustrate an NJNG energy-saving tip for a chance to win one of three tablets. And winning students' schools each receive a $1,000 contribution toward an energy-conservation or environmental project while their teachers each receive a $100 gift card. *

Video Contest for High School Students:

It's lights, cameras, action for high school students in our fourth annual CTP Kids and Conservation Video contest. The contest is open to high school students (13 years and older) – who attend traditional school or are home-schooled within our service territory – to creatively showcase their energy-saving efforts and ideas through film. Both individual and group/class projects are accepted. The individual video winner will receive $500 and the winning group submission will receive $2,500.* Plus their school will receive a $1,000 contribution toward an energy-conservation or environmental project.

Moreover, our community partner, the Asbury Park Press, will feature the top videos on its Web site where the public will vote and select the winner of the Viewer's Choice Award of $500.

Contact us at ccanon@njng.com or 732-938-1035 to get started. All poster and video entries must be submitted prior to November 17, 2014. We will announce the winners in January 2015.

NO PURCHASE NECESSARY. Poster and video contests end November 17, 2014. Video contest open to high school students, 13 and older, attending traditional school or home schooled within NJNG's territory. VOID WHERE PROHIBITED. For complete rules, visit the Kids and Conservation section of njng.com.*

SPEAKERS' BUREAU PROGRAMS

Invite us to your next gathering for a fun learning experience.

Whether you are looking for a guest lecturer or classroom speaker, we've got the program for you.

The NJNG Speakers' Bureau provides FREE quality programs designed to entertain and educate. Choose from such topics as energy efficiency and conservation, carbon monoxide and natural gas safety, energy assistance and more.

For smaller elementary school groups, we offer age-appropriate videos and follow-up discussions — Learning Safety the Natural Way, Natural Gas your Invisible Friend and Careers in the Natural Gas Industry. Larger assemblies can check out the Energy Hog road show. This 30-minute skit features the villainous Energy Hog and his nemesis the Energy Hog Buster.

And if you have a specific topic, we will do our best to meet your needs. Speakers from many departments are available to discuss their areas of expertise.

Community college provides an affordable option for starting higher education at a time when the cost of tuition is on the rise. Interested high school students, transfer students and adults are invited to attend an Open House at their local community college. It's an ideal opportunity to tour the campus and meet with faculty, staff and coaches.
